Cost of living too high for the San Nicolas pensioners.

Long time ago walking into the supermarket with 25 florins you could have shopped, but now even with 100 florins you barely walk out with 1 bag of goods, and this is mostly felt by our pensioners as their income is not much at all, and to make it worse they need extra nutrients that people need at an advanced age.

This is the age where the pensioners should enjoy life and see the world, sadly the only world most of our pensioners see is the Casino world, trying to stretch their pension money.

We the people together with our government should find ways to better take care of those who paved the way for all of us. BBO and other taxes, high gas prices, please don't forget the price hike in our water & electricity bills.

New Roads New Problems!

Politics is such a nasty game. We have all seen different political persons posing and bragging about the fixing of the roads in Yuana Morto/ Diamant Berg Weg, posing like “San Nicolas Look What I Did For You Vote For Me 2021” Don’t take us wrong, we are happy that these streets finally got the attention and service needed, but those who live on these streets know what this will cause and precautions should be taken. What are we talking about? Residence know these streets have become the new Palo Marga Race track, and cars are racing & driving at high speeds, not holding into consideration that this is a residential area were kids, and older people walk to the shops, restaurants, baseball field and much more. We would like to see high sidewalks on both sides of the streets to protect the pedestrians that walk these streets daily, because when things are good, all come to pose for pictures, when things go wrongs they loose their cameras.

Mosquitos Taking Over Savaneta & Sabana Basora

The Community of Savaneta & Sabana Basora is complaining about the growth of mosquitos in their neighborhood. They called the government controllers to investigate whats going on, they are doing their best, however its due to that area is close to the mangroves( trees close the ocean) While the habitants are taking all precautions around there homes, this problem need more professional help, these black mosquitos bite hard, but the government controllers informed the community that these mosquitos don’t carry illnesses.

Must Visit Caves In San Nicolas

There are a number of spectacular caves to visit in San Nicolas, including Guadirikiri, Huliba and Fontein, all located in the Arikok National Park.

Fontein is known for its multitude of geometric and zoomorphic (animal) cave drawings, created by Arawak Indians 2000-3500 years ago. If you look closer, you'll also find more modern day graffiti, including one from a Dutch Governor, A.J.K Meyer, scratched into the rock in 1830.

The cave has colorful stalactites, rock formations hanging down from the ceiling, and stalagmites, building up from the ground. Nocturnal long nosed and long tongues fruit bats call the cave their home, so don't be alarmed when they silently flit by. They're harmless, and don't forget, you're a guest in their 'house' ; )

Make sure to speak with the park rangers stationed at the entrance, they are knowledgeable and eager to share Fontein's ancient, and fascinating history.

San Nicolas Very Own Poet David Quant

STOP

You have planned so many trips, but then talked yourself out of it,

You thought.. 'my responsibilities must be met', but forgot that your happiness is a responsibility too,

You have ideas that ignites your passion, visions that allows you to dream,

But, your logic shuts you up and tell you 'focus only on the things that can be seen',

You miss those old friends, they cross your mind and make you dwell,

Instead of picking up the phone and call, you figured.. you're too busy and all is well..

Your mind is constantly on the rush, constantly on the go,

Therefore it hinders you from enjoying the journey and flow,

So stop. Talk to yourself and say stop.

Think less, live more,

Focus less on reaping and more on sow,

Less on what you can get, more on on what you can give,

Less of going through the motions, more of moments well lived

San Nicolas Very Own Poet Reginald de Palm

Without a Yesterday

Am I alone in this world?
World of which we are all together in.

In the inner you.

Yes you!

You are my only companion now.

Now all those people I talked about, they are all dead.

Dead like they always were and always will be; dead inside for there is no tomorrow
without a Yesterday.

Today is the living proof that we exist merely for the sake thereof for there is no end.

Haven't you heard? Eternal life?

Life as a human race will never be extinct.

Humans will die and others will be born again and rise to take their places.

Places you read about in the bible are real.

God is real, just misunderstood and misinterpreted by many.

Many made religious claims trying to own God.

God cannot be owned by men.

Man used and abused the freedom given.

Give man time and time will give a man the chance to screw-up time after time again.

And again, this time should be a lesson learned by those we speak about, those who died not knowing how.

How can a person not be interested in a story that managed to survive for more than 20 centuries?

Where people are still conversing about this topic as if it happened just Yesterday.

Today I'm telling you, there can be no tomorrow without a Yesterday.

Therefore we are urging our members and future members to sign up and participate in these upcoming forums.

Among the topics to be discussed:

- *How to use Social media to promote and grow your business.
